Tip Of The Month Home Repair

A workman comes to your door offering to do some costly repair work for a bargain price. He may tell you that his father put the roof on your house several years ago and he is here to do any necessary repairs nearly cost-free. Or he may say that he was in the neighborhood doing another job and he has some leftover materials that must be used quickly or they will go bad.

If you agree to let him do the work, he will return to your door and give you a much higher price for the work than you expected. By now the work has been completed and he tells you that you must pay or he'll take you to court.

TIP: If anyone comes to your door offering to do home repair work, REFUSE! Legitimate contractors normally don't go door-to-door soliciting business. If you need repair work done, YOU call the contractor. If you do find that you have fallen for a home repair scam and the worker pressures you to pay, tell him that you're going to call the police. He'll probably be out of town before you can finish dialing the number!
